RESEARCH INTERESTS

dark matter · gravitational lensing · galaxy clusters · galaxy quenching · multi-wavelength cosmology · intrinsic alignment galaxy morphology · statistical methods

EDUCATION

	University of California, Santa Cruz
2020 - Present	Ph.D. in Physics
2021 on Leave	Physics Department
	Thesis: TBD
	Advisors: TESLA E. JELTEMA, ALEXIE S. LEAUTHAUD
	Duke University
2020	B.A. in Physics with Highest Distinction
	Department of Physics
	Thesis: Intrinsic Alignment in the redMaPPer Clusters in the Dark Energy Survey
	Advisor: MICHAEL A. TROXEL

LEAD PUBLICATION

1. Resposne Bias in Cosmic Shear, in prep.
C.ZHOU & M.R. BECKER
2. Constraining the Optical Selection Bias of Galaxy Cluster Lensing with Multi-wavelength Data, in prep.
C.ZHOU, H.Y WU, A.N. SALCEDO, T.E. JELTEMA et al.
3. The Intrinsic Alignment of Red Galaxies in DES Y1 redMaPPer Galaxy
Clusters , MNRAS
C. ZHOU, A. TONG, M.A. TROXEL, J. BLAZEK, C. LIN et al.

CONTRIBUTED PUBLICATION

1. Dark Energy Survey Year 3 Results: Deep Field Optical + Near-Infrared
Images and Catalogue MNRAS
W.G. HARTLEY, A.CHOI, A.AMON et al.
